LANDMARK SOCIETY ANNUAL APRIL FOOLS EVENT COMBINES HISTORY AND FUN AT THE STONE-TOLAN HOUSE:

ROCHESTER, NY, March 22, 2016 — Poor Stone-Tolan House! The April Fools have been at it again! The oldest site in the county is littered with things that don't belong in a 210-year-old tavern and farmhouse – flip flops, Jell-O, even a lava lamp!

Help The Landmark Society unravel this mess at the sixth annual April Fools Tour at the Stone-Tolan Historic Site, 2370 East Avenue, Rochester, on Saturday, April 2. “Team up with friends and family to please help us discover what the ‘April Fools’ have done at Stone-Tolan,” said Cindy Boyer, Landmark Society Director of Public Programs. There will be prizes!

The tour will be open from noon to 4 p.m. Admission is $5 per adult. For this event, children up to age 18 are welcome free of charge when accompanied by paying adult. For more information, call (585) 546-7029, extension 11 or visit the Landmark Society website at www.landmarksociety.org

The April Fools Tour will take place on this one day only. Then museum staff will return the museum into its appropriate, historically correct settings in time for the spring school tours!
